Order Now! “The Wuhan Cover-Up” by RFK Jr.!

01/04/24 • COVID › NEWS

A Disabled Vet Combed Obituaries for the Words ‘Suddenly’ and ‘Unexpectedly’ — Here’s What He Found

Steve Connolly, a disabled Iraq War combat veteran and recovering alcoholic in Massachusetts, was horrified by the number of deaths among his friends at Alcoholics Anonymous meetings starting in 2021 after the COVID-19 vaccine rollouts. Experts said he made an astonishing data discovery that corroborates Ed Dowd and Pierre Kory’s work on vaccine-induced excess deaths in all 50 states.

By Mike Capuzzo

104

Miss a day, miss a lot. Subscribe to The Defender's Top News of the Day. It's free.

Steve Connolly, an Iraq War combat veteran, was horrified by all the death and dying around him — not in the Iraq killing fields, but in Alcoholics Anonymous (AA) meetings starting in 2021, after the COVID-19 vaccines rolled out.

Connolly, a 61-year-old disabled vet and retired social worker who cared for the most severe and violent mentally ill patients in Massachusetts, said the formerly routine AA meetings became scenes of more suffering and carnage than he’d ever witnessed in war or among “the worst of the worst” in mental hospitals.

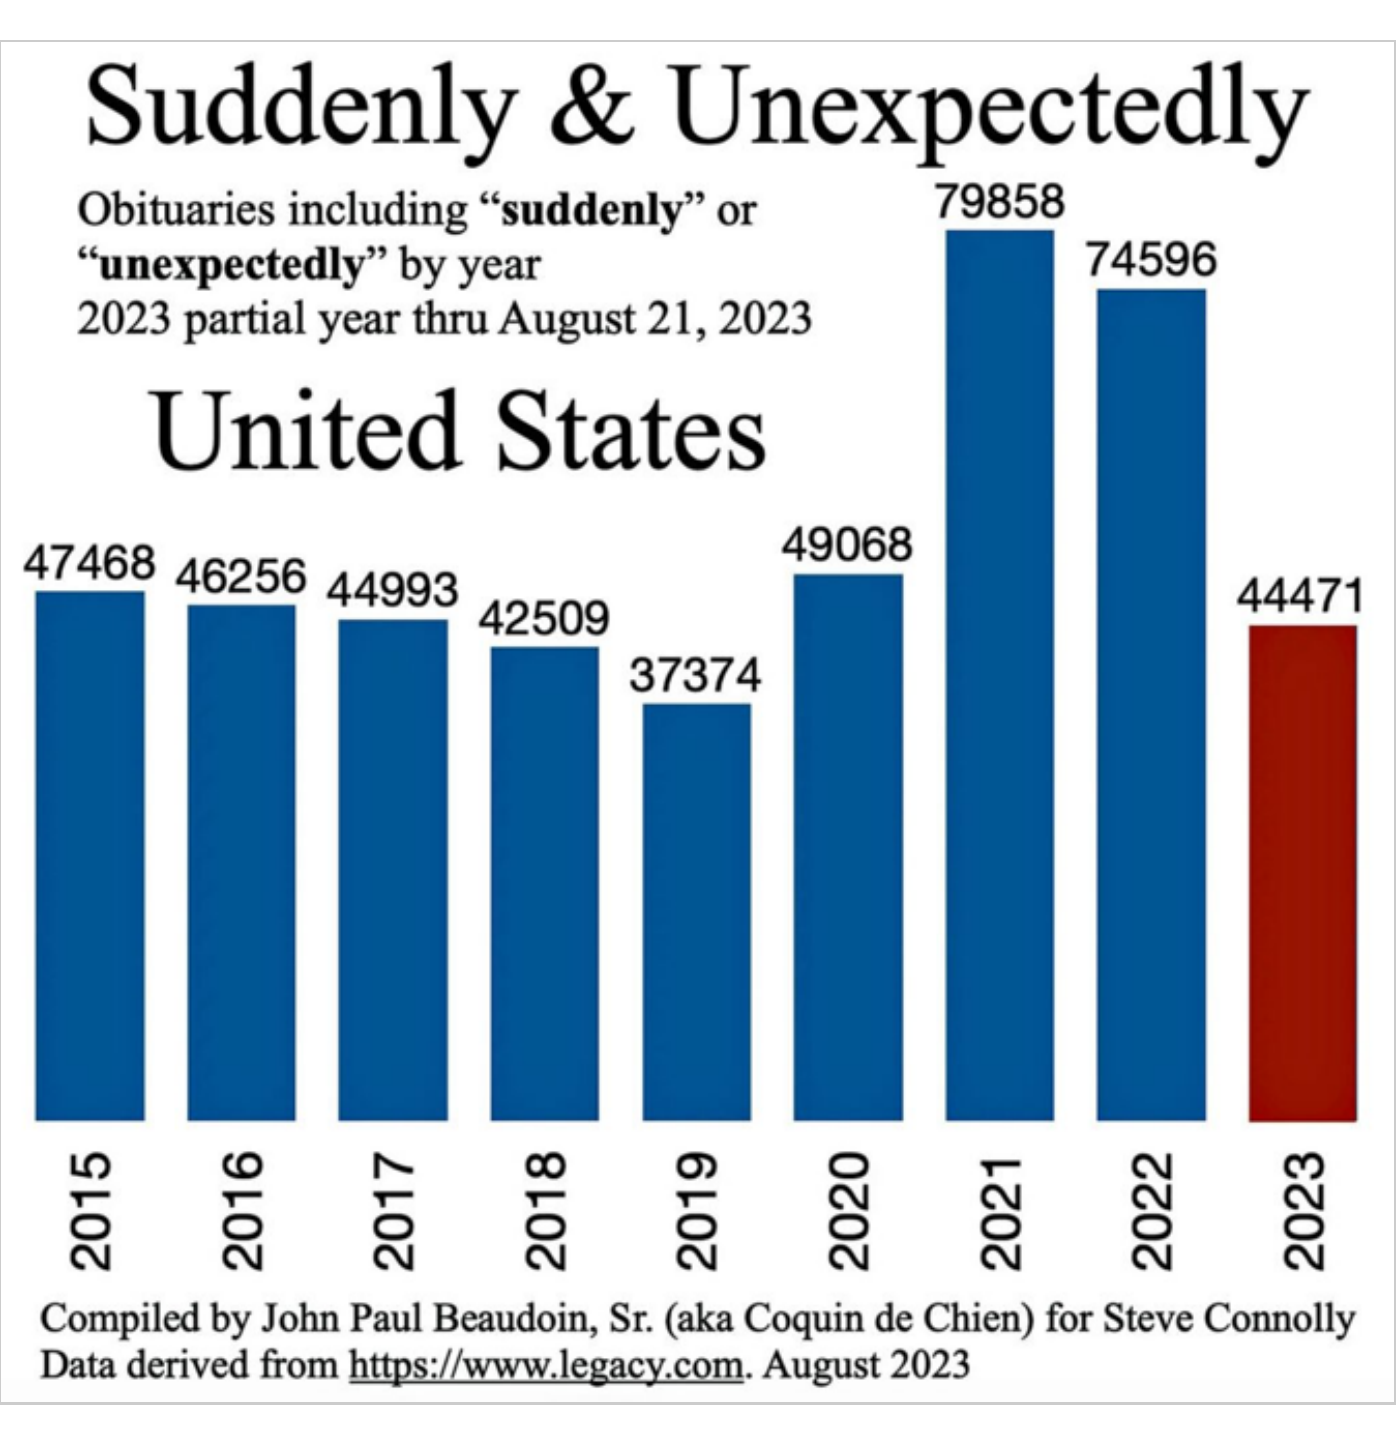
“In all of my time, I’ve never seen this many people that I know dropping dead in this span of time,” Connolly said.

Verne was in his 70s, relatively healthy and stable, Connolly said, “coughing on a Sunday, dead on Monday.” Big Rob was in his 30s, a little obese, and “died from myocarditis.”

Allie was in her 30s, a heavy girl, but healthy. “She got the jab, then had serious gallbladder issues and had it removed. She was found dead when she didn’t show up for work.”

A physician in AA, known as Dr. Michael, debated Connolly about the jab. “I tried to explain it to him. He didn’t believe me. Two weeks later, he got the booster. He died from a heart attack a few days later. Then they killed my friend, and I started to investigate.”

In an exclusive interview with The Defender, Connolly relayed how, driven by anger and pain over the unexplained scourge of deaths, he pored over “thousands and thousands and thousands” of obituaries and discovered that deaths reported as “suddenly” or “unexpectedly” on legacy.com obits soared more than 62% across the U.S. after the rollout of the mRNA vaccines.



Compiled by John Paul Beaudoin, Sr. (aka Coquin de Chien) for Steve Connolly
Data derived from https://www.legacy.com. August 2023

Connolly’s data trove, assembled with the help of Massachusetts systems engineer and vaccine-death investigator John Beaudoin Sr., matches to a remarkable degree the unprecedented rise in U.S. excess deaths and disabilities in government data reported by former BlackRock hedge-fund manager Edward Dowd, Dr. Pierre Kory and others, Kory said.

Kory, president of the Front Line COVID-19 Critical Care Alliance who treats COVID-19-vaccine-injured patients in his practice, has written extensively calling for the government, insurance companies, public health officials and major media to acknowledge and investigate the catastrophic health crisis of excess deaths and disabilities striking not just the U.S. but all countries where the vaccines were rolled out on a massive scale.

Kory last week discovered Connolly’s data, published in August 2023 on Beaudoin’s Substack, Coquin de Chien’s Newsletter (French for “Naughty Dog”), and wrote about it on his Substack.

“For those of us already fully aware of the massive excess deaths caused by the mRNA vaccines, it is difficult to be impressed with new data sources proving same,” Kory wrote.

“I thought the EMS data I posted yesterday was shocking,” Kory wrote. But Connolly’s “charts of his findings are beyond compelling and deserve wider sharing.”

Asked by The Defender to quantify the significance of Connolly’s data, Kory — who was a highly published University of Wisconsin-Madison professor of pulmonary critical care medicine and ran the intensive care units at two of the world’s top academic medical centers — said, “I would just say that, like all the other sources revealing such a tight temporal association, this also leads to no other explanation but the vaccines as the principal driver of the excess mortality.”

“It’s uncanny,” Connolly said. “I go to an AA meeting every day and people are dying around me, people I know and don’t know. Almost every meeting has new people talking about their relatives dying or having a stroke or another ailment like Guillain-Barré [syndrome] or heart attack. It’s unusual now that a medical event hasn’t befallen someone.”

When he hears the tragic stories, Connolly said, “I just point to my arm with my finger.”

“The Wuhan Cover-Up”
by Robert F. Kennedy Jr.
ORDER NOW

Connolly, who lives in Hubbardston (pop. 4,300) in central Massachusetts, served two tours with the U.S. Army in Iraq and 13 years with the National Guard. Sober for 26 years, he relapsed after his second tour in Iraq and battled alcoholism for eight years but has been sober since Aug. 21, 2020.

During the 2020 lockdowns, he waited eight months for medical treatment for blood in his urine before bladder cancer surgery in November 2020.

“I’m pretty beat up,” he said. But the pandemic put him on high alert. “I was paying attention to the news quite intently. I’m former military and I wanted to make sure that I was prepared for whatever was coming.”

As a former case manager for the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health, Connolly was responsible for advocating for the mentally ill including severe schizophrenics, bipolar and dual-diagnosis patients with substance abuse, and a client so violent he spent most of his life in Worcester State Hospital with a double lobotomy.

Connolly, who knew his way around hospitals and the medical system, was immediately suspicious of calls to lock down to “flatten the curve.”

“Something didn’t sit right with me,” he said. “I’m all about I get to do what I want to do because I’m a free man. I started driving to local hospitals to see them overrun and they were ghost towns.”

Connolly told The Defender:

> “I spent a lot of time in hospitals with my clients. I wore masks and gowns and gloves depending on the contagion. But you don’t shut a hospital down. You don’t sequester healthy people if there’s something contagious going around. You isolate the sick.
>
> “Things weren’t adding up for me — and then my friend got sick.”

Connolly had known his friend Keith, 59, in AA for 13 years. “He was a relatively healthy guy and had been sober for 13 years, and suddenly his abdomen began to distend, he was very, very sick.”

While battling his bladder cancer, Connolly served as Keith’s health proxy. He accompanied his friend to the doctor as he would with his clients as case manager, “responsible for every aspect of someone’s care — housing, food, medical, legal, everything.”

More things didn’t add up at the doctor’s office.

“The doctors told Keith he had liver cancer,” Connolly said. “But his death certificate said he died of end-stage liver disease, cirrhosis. But he was sober for 13 years. How the hell did cirrhosis kill him? Cirrhosis is a long, slow death.”

“I wasn’t there to argue with the doctors, but I was very suspicious. Keith died 60 days after getting the vaccine.”

After his friend’s death, Connolly devoured every scrap of information he could find about the post-vax excess death crisis from Dowd, Kory, Dr. Paul Marik, Dr. Ryan Cole and others. “I became an activist.”

Connolly did what seemingly no one else had thought to do. He “spent an enormous amount of time” obsessively reading obituaries of those who died too soon or of unknown causes, looking for clues.

RFK Jr. and Brian Hooker’s
New Book: “Vax-Unvax”
ORDER NOW

“Ed Dowd was doing the actuary data and I’m not a big brain,” Connolly said. “I got a high school diploma, I worked my way up to a master’s level based on experience, very little college, self-taught. But I started seeing these guys with big brains, Ryan Cole, Dowd. I wanted to participate somehow.”

In December 2022, Connolly heard Beaudoin interviewed on CHD.TV by Dr. Meryl Nass. He was stunned by the Massachusetts man’s story and data.

Beaudoin, 59, is an electrical engineer and systems engineer whose son died in a motorcycle accident in 2018. He was sitting around depressed, “not working, not doing anything,” when COVID-19 hit and his middle son said, “It’s all B.S.”

“I said, Charlie, you got to take it seriously, so I went to prove him wrong — and within a week, I proved him right. I found CDC [Centers for Disease Control and Prevention] data and New York City data and the story wasn’t matching.”

Beaudoin enrolled in law school, but was thrown out for being unvaccinated. He sued Massachusetts and the federal government for vaccine data and the law school for tossing him out. In his new role as an activist, working with Steve Kirsch, Jessica Rose, Ph.D., and others, he struck gold with a Freedom of Information Act request that gave him the entire death certificate database of Massachusetts.

Beaudoin has been talking to groups and media ever since. His extensive analysis of 460,000 death certificates has made him “one of the unsung heroes of the pandemic.”

The death certificate data show a massive, illegal cover-up in Massachusetts of COVID-19 mRNA vaccine damage, Beaudoin said, that he will document in a forthcoming book.

“In Massachusetts alone in 2021 and 2022, there were 3,000 excess cardiac arrest deaths, 500 excess pulmonary embolism deaths, 400 excess cardiac arrhythmia deaths, hundreds of excess clotting and bleeding and blood vessel and stroke deaths.”

All were temporally associated with the mRNA vaccine rollout, Beaudoin said.

Beaudoin also produced data showing that COVID-19 killed Massachusetts residents in 2020, average age of 81, seasonally and with respiratory diseases. But far more Bay Staters have died since the 2021 vax rollout, now average age 65 with no seasonality, and a sudden shift “to circulatory and blood causes” of death.

For those who insist excess deaths are COVID-19-caused, Beaudoin said, “Diseases do not change how they kill, whom they kill and when they kill suddenly on a year boundary.”

Stunned by Beaudoin’s research, Connolly drove to rural Keene, New Hampshire, last Feb. 18 to hear Beaudoin give his death certificate presentation in the small Hope Chapel.

The event was sponsored by Health Freedom New Hampshire and the CHD New England Chapter.

After the presentation, Connolly, stricken and hurting, approached Beaudoin and introduced himself.

“I felt really badly for him,” Beaudoin said in an interview with The Defender. “He was telling me about friends and acquaintances at Alcoholics Anonymous, all disappearing, this guy died, that guy died. He was angry at the COVID-19 vaccine situation, but wanted to do something positive to prevent others from being harmed or killed.”

The two men exchanged information. Connolly barraged Beaudoin for days with screen-captured obits he’d found on his phone with the words “suddenly” or “unexpectedly.” Beaudoin looked up the death certificates and told Connolly the official causes of death.

Then, “Steve came up with a great idea,” Beaudoin said. “He found an online data tool embedded in a national obituary website, Legacy.com. Steve utilized the website’s advanced search tool to filter obituaries for the keywords “suddenly” and “unexpectedly.” He then filtered by date range and U.S. state.”

Your support helps fund this work, and CHD’s related advocacy, education and scientific research.
DONATE NOW

Connolly populated a multi-use spreadsheet Beaudoin created with the number of instances of “suddenly” or “unexpectedly” for every U.S. state and the years 2015 through Aug. 21, 2023.

The results stunned both men.

“Steve has the heart and zeal of a lion,” Beaudoin said, and “the results are staggering and incontrovertible.”

He called Connolly’s data “strong pragmatic evidence, corroborative of the insurance data highlighted by Ed Dowd, that there is a public health emergency manifesting in an astronomical increase in sudden fatalities since 2021.”

“Something is very wrong with public health beginning not in the COVID year of 2020, but rather upon deployment of the transfecting gene therapy drug the government calls a ‘vaccine’ in 2021,” Beaudoin said. “This is an alarming trend that cannot be unseen.”

Connolly said he was overwhelmed by the realization his work revealed massive numbers of tragic deaths, suffering on a catastrophic scale and evidence of a terrible crime. “I thought, ‘Oh, my God, Oh, my God,’” he said. “People didn’t just decide to write ‘suddenly’ and ‘unexpectedly’ for no reason.”

“Even though I was already on board with this thing killing people, there was still a flicker of doubt that I hadn’t done any of the stuff myself,” Connolly said “I’m taking John [Beaudoin] at his word. I’m taking Ed Dowd, Ryan Cole, Paul Marik at their word, Pierre Kory at his word. I’m listening to attorney [Thomas] Renz.”

“But now I’ve seen it myself and found something that corroborated all of it in more of an organic way. This is not about me but I’ve actually contributed something. Maybe this will make a difference. I’m still trying to make a difference. We need the vaccine data from Massachusetts, and they won’t give it up unless we force them somehow.”

Beaudoin asked his recovering alcoholic friend, “Do you think this puts a stressor on you for your addiction?”

“No. It puts a fire in my belly,” Connolly said. “I see their faces. I see their eyes. I knew these people. … [They’re] hiding information. No reason for ignoring this. It may not be the vaccine. But wouldn’t they want to know? That’s the real question.”

“When does it end?” Beaudoin asked. “When do you stop looking at obituaries and get some peace?”

“When they stop trying to kill us. When I see people start being perp-walked. Nuremberg 2 should happen. These people have to be held accountable,” Connolly said.

Subscribe to The Defender – It’s Free!
First Name.. Last Name.. Email.. SIGN UP

SUGGEST A CORRECTION

Mike Capuzzo
Mike Capuzzo is a reporter for The Defender. He is a former prize-winning reporter for The Philadelphia Inquirer and The Miami Herald, a science writer, and a regional magazine founding editor and publisher who has won more than 200 journalism awards as a writer, editor and publisher.

Sign up for free news and updates from Children’s Health Defense. CHD focuses on legal strategies to defend the health of our children and obtain justice for those injured. We can't do it without your support.

Republishing Guidelines

Children's Health Defense Comment Policy
We welcome relevant and respectful comments. Off-topic comments may be removed.
Please read our Comment Policy before commenting.
Got it

104 Comments Login ▾

Join the discussion…

LOG IN WITH OR SIGN UP WITH DISQUS ?

Name

♡ 10 • Share Best Newest Oldest

Gary Brown
6 days ago
Jan 1, 2024 Over 200 service members demand Biden's military leadership be court-martialed and FIRED for forced 'experimentation' on troops with COVID-19 vaccine mandate leaving 'significant' physical and mental scars

On New Year's Day, over 200 service members declared that they will do 'everything' in their power to get accountability since not a single leader has resigned or been held to account despite the rollback of the vaccine mandate last year.

https://www.dailymail.co.uk...

see more

41 0 Reply • Share ›

Beatrice → Gary Brown
6 days ago
Only 200 service men and women? Shame on the rest of them who won't stand by the brave heroes. Our military is working on the wrong side of truth and justice for this country and needs to stand up against the evil perpetrated against them. Chemical warfare, unjust wars, poisoned water, dangerous and deadly vaccines-enuff is ENOUGH!

26 1 Reply • Share ›

Gary Brown → Beatrice
6 days ago
Over 200 friend.

Over 200 service members demand Biden's military leadership be court-martialed and FIRED for forced 'experimentation' on troops with COVID-19 vaccine mandate leaving 'significant' physical and mental scars

16 0 Reply • Share ›

Beatrice → Gary Brown
6 days ago
I stand with them. Where are they and will they go to congress? I will be there!!

14 0 Reply • Share ›

Jennifo → Beatrice
5 days ago
CHD has set up a military chapter that you can sign up to receive their emails.

5 0 Reply • Share ›

Angela Rouse → Beatrice
3 days ago
Please go to militaryaccountability.com and sign the petition in support of them. And you can read the letter that they signed also.

2 0 Reply • Share ›

Beatrice → Angela Rouse
3 days ago
The website is gone. However, I did find the story and letter on another site. What really angers me the most is that the DOD was used, immediately, by the Biden admin to enforce the covid mandates. The scientists and doctors were shoved aside and placed under DOD's authority.

2 0 Reply • Share ›

Barbara Douglas → Beatrice
2 days ago
Like so much else the Biden administration has "executive ordered" into being! This whole time in office has been an exercise in futility for the American people! I hope the military braveheart make some headway!

1 0 Reply • Share ›

Beatrice → Barbara Douglas a day ago
So true! It's truly disgusting and now they have decided to not allow candidates on their Dem primary ballots AND they have the audacity to advertise how democratic they are!! What has this country turned into? Our president and so many others blatantly lie to Americans without even a micron of shame. Corporate executives like Boeing care nothing about their products or the lives that use them and only care about their stock portfolio. I've never felt more disdain for our leadership than I do today. Where are the American people decrying their refusal to comply with fascist tyranny?

1 0 Reply • Share ›

AbusedTaxpayer → Angela Rouse
2 days ago
`https://www.militaryaccountability.com/`

0 0 Reply • Share ›

Beatrice → Angela Rouse
3 days ago
Thanks Angela but the link isn't working. Any other way to find the petition?

0 0 Reply • Share ›

Fish Deep → Beatrice
3 days ago
It just worked fine for me... (8:30 PM MST)

1 0 Reply • Share ›

Beatrice → Fish Deep
2 days ago
I'm able to get into the website today (jan 8) WEIRD. .I tried 3 different browsers, one of them being completely anonymous. Maybe the site was down for maintenance????

0 0 Reply • Share ›

Jennifo → Beatrice
5 days ago
It's a start. You've apparently not served. You don't go against a command. Some members have no where to go once kicked out so they don't feel/didn't feel they had a choice. Some committed suicide because of being forced to take this bioweapon.

There are plenty that will willingly be kicked out than take another convid shot. Remember, those serving are not privvy to info we are. They are heavily into their stations.

6 0 Reply • Share ›

Beatrice → Jennifo
5 days ago
I know the military all too well Jenn. Please don't make assumptions. Breaking command has been done by many heroic men and women. I feel honored to know a few.

6 0 Reply • Share ›

Jennifo → Beatrice
4 days ago
I apologize for too hasty of a comment yesterday, coffee was running strong.

3 0 Reply • Share ›

Beatrice → Jennifo
4 days ago
You're forgiven :D Thank you Jenn.

1 0 Reply • Share ›

GrouchyMathGrad → Beatrice
3 days ago edited
Don't go shaming people. (Admittedly that's a triggering word for me) The vast majority probably never even heard about the chance to sign up. And active duty troops would have nothing to gain from signing it, only chances to be harassed.

0 0 Reply • Share ›

Beatrice → GrouchyMathGrad
2 days ago
Nothing good comes easy. If it was easy, everyone would be doing it.

0 0 Reply • Share ›

Jeanette Johnson → Gary Brown
5 days ago edited
Www.Militaryaccountability.com
Sign your name to the American petition. This is a good start.

6 0 Reply • Share ›

jann → Gary Brown
5 days ago
A petition for the general public has been added. https://militaryaccountabil...

3 0 Reply • Share ›

K Kercher → jann
4 days ago
I looked for a way to sign it, but I wasn't seeing it.

1 0 Reply • Share ›

jann → K Kercher
4 days ago
If not, maybe try another browser. Sometimes Brave doesn't allow me to access certain things. Also, Brad Miller, one of the military signers, posted it on X. See 2nd half of:
https://live.childrenshealt...

2 0 Reply • Share ›

K Kercher → jann
4 days ago
Yeah, it's probably Brave getting in the way like it sometimes does.

0 0 Reply • Share ›

jann → K Kercher
4 days ago
There should be a blue "Sign Petition" button in the lower right corner.

1 0 Reply • Share ›

PonyBoy
6 days ago
They, the murderers in this conspiracy to kill as many people as possible with their poison shots, will never tell the truth about their global conspiracy.

Donate Now
You make the difference.
GUIDESTAR PLATINUM SEAL OF TRANSPARENCY 2020

Latest News

CHD Asks Appeals Court to Allow Lawsuit Challenging FDA’s Authorization of COVID Shots for Kids to Move Forward

FDA Violated Agency Guidelines by Promoting Off-Label Use of COVID Shots to Treat Long COVID

240,000 ‘Toxic’ Plastic Particles Found in Average Liter of Bottled Water

MORE NEWS

Latest Views

Watch: ‘Mothers Have to Resist’: Scientist Warns Against RSV Shots for Newborns

Lab-Grown Fake ‘Chicken’ — With a Side of Heavy Metals and Rodent DNA?

U.S. Failure to Restrict BPA Chemicals Leaves Americans Exposed to Levels Hundreds of Thousands of Times Higher Than ‘Safe’

MORE VIEWS

Get FREE News & Updates!
First Name..
Last Name..
Email..
SIGN UP

Get Text Alerts
Sign up for breaking news from The Defender.
Currently only eligible for numbers in the U.S. and Canada.
1234567890
Phone
REQUIRED. Phone number must be in a standard 10-digit format: 1234567890 or 123-456-7890
CONTINUE

Only 'We the People' can take the necessary steps to stop them.
It's unfortunate that many of us will perish in doing so.
The time for action is coming.
Being scared is perfectly normal. I'm scared.
But being a slave to monsters is something I am not willing to do.

32 0 Reply • Share ›

GarySummers → PonyBoy
5 days ago

"This was a Killer Also!' IMO.
"People Were Killed By Ventilators Not COVID-19 Virus"
Ventilator-Associated Pneumonia and COVID-19

In the study, investigators found that nearly half of patients with COVID-19 developed a secondary ventilator-associated bacterial pneumonia, which they referred to as "ventilator-associated pneumonia," or VAP.

"Recent data suggest that secondary pneumonia is present in up to 40% and pneumonia or diffuse alveolar damage is present in over 90% of autopsy specimens obtained from patients with acute SARS-CoV-2 infection," the authors of the study wrote, referring to the scientific name for the virus that causes COVID-19.
https://www.algora.com/Algo...

5 0 Reply • Share ›

Paige Woodruff → GarySummers
2 days ago

Yes, and I'm sure you heard about the effects of using remdesivir also in the hospital protocol.

0 0 Reply • Share ›

MultiChubby1 → PonyBoy
5 days ago

If you're not scared, it's not courage.

5 0 Reply • Share ›

Stephen Simac
6 days ago

Searching for died "peacefully", or in their "sleep", will bring up even more hits. Our much larger geographical area, with about three times the population of Hubbardston, has also been hit with greatly increased sudden deaths, peaceful deaths, sleep deaths. Our local fire dept's EMT calls have increased by 30% this year, already higher since 2021.

24 0 Reply • Share ›

Concerned American → Stephen Simac
6 days ago

Great point!!!! This is especially true of the young people that have passed after a vaccine!!! My husbands cousin died at 21 in her sleep after it. They all lie. I hate liberals… they're the closest thing to a nazi in this decade.

12 1 Reply • Share ›

eyesandears → Stephen Simac
4 days ago

A recent term also being used is "medical emergency".

4 0 Reply • Share ›

Someone → Stephen Simac
4 days ago

I think it would be especially compelling to just in general look for the numbers of deaths among younger people. Under 30 probably would work. Don't even need to look at specifics in that age group, just look for all obituaries for people under 30. The media has been trying to normalize young adults dying, but it's not normal in the least bit and an overall look at the numbers would show that it has never been normal for young people to just suddenly die of any sort of disease. Sudden deaths among the young are typically caused by accidents, violent crime, and suicides.

What would be the most compelling is that there would likely be a decrease in deaths among this age group in 2020 during lockdowns since this was the age group at the lowest risk of death from COVID-19 and lockdowns did actually reduce the rate of deaths for accidents and violent crimes. So the stats would likely be steady up until 2019, then a sharp drop in 2020 and then a massive increase well beyond 2019 rates in 2021 and beyond. On top of that, one can also look at the changes as approval came for younger and younger ages.

2 0 Reply • Share ›

GrouchyMathGrad → Someone
3 days ago

https://www.usmortality.com... is a good source for this.

0 0 Reply • Share ›

GrouchyMathGrad → Stephen Simac
3 days ago

"Brief illness" is a something to look for too.

0 0 Reply • Share ›

willaim01
6 days ago

Im ex military ive been an activist fighting the system since the day i realised i was protecting these demons, in 2016 i unearthed some very dark sinister truths about the Liverpool School of tropical medicine and infectious deseases and thats when they tried to silence me ? I know exactly whats in those jabs and i warned everyone not to take them but most ignored me, i fled the uk because they were going to section me using rogue psychiatrists the vaccines are nano bio and can be activated and its my belief that this year millions will die who took this demonic jab . I tried to get my story out there but im shaddowed and banned every time i name names .

16 0 Reply • Share ›

Grant Davis → willaim01
5 days ago

I am a Viet era army vet and I was fortunate to realize about 40 years ago that all jabs were destructive. As a result, my children, now in their late 30's, were never vaccinated, and never needed to visit a pediatrician. If you are ever out towards Commiefornia (if you are in the States), I can offer support. Not sure if there is anyplace safe now.

10 0 Reply • Share ›

Peg Futrell → Grant Davis
3 days ago

Yes!! Suzanne Humphries' book, Dissolving Illusions, came out years ago, detailing this story of harm perpetrated by the medical cartel in the use of these interventions. (And of course RFKJr is saying the same, drawing attention to the excellent health of the Amish.) It is a great book, highly recommended.

3 0 Reply • Share ›

Dee → willaim01
5 days ago

The estimated time of people to expire from the jab, if they didn't drop immediately from it, is 2 - 5 years. We are in the timeframe of seeing this happen now. We will see more of these tragedies. At my work I have a jabbed & boosted co-worker who had cancer removed from breast, only to get pericarditis. It is going to be tragic watching people drop around us. We need to handle this prayerfully. It sucks being right.

5 0 Reply • Share ›

Jennifo → Dee
3 days ago

Everywhere I go now I see people with canes, wheelchairs, oxygen tanks more & more, like it's the norm.

Then I see/hear autistic children/young adults everywhere. I feel like a minority of good health, which is frightening. Every yoga/exercise class I take I hear of someone coughing, sniffling or telling about how their kids/neighbors/parents have come down with bizarre rashes, breathing problems, dideases, etc.

I am so sad at first then I get upset that this was projected onto us helplessly. Even if we're not jabbed, we will be affected by it some way, shape or form at one point. This angers me.

3 0 Reply • Share ›

GrouchyMathGrad → Dee
3 days ago

There's some evidence that shots that sat for some time after manufacture, especially if they sat at higher temperatures, had degradation of the mRNA and so were less deadly.

The quality control of the lots was abysmal, so some lots were worse, and some may have been nearly placebo-like in being harmless.

0 1 Reply • Share ›

Mike from Ramsbottom → willaim01
6 days ago

The Deagel population forecast for the next two years would indicate a mass die-off.

5 0 Reply • Share ›

Peg Futrell → willaim01
3 days ago

Tony Pantalleresco, mad scientist who looks out for all of our health, explains how nano technology -constructed robots are in all of our bodies. i can attest that this is true after experiencing his device in bath, and what came out which I examined. Clearly robots.
https://www.bitchute.com/vi...

0 0 Reply • Share ›

Suzy Applegate
6 days ago

They have since changed the wording, from Died Suddenly and Unexpectedly, to other catch phrases, probably to avert those looking?!

15 0 Reply • Share ›

GrouchyMathGrad → Suzy Applegate
3 days ago

"Brief illness" and "medical emergency" are two code phrases now used.

1 0 Reply • Share ›

Beatrice
6 days ago

I've suddenly lost so many clients in the last 3 months due to vax related illnesses that I am concerned about whether my business can handle anymore. I hope that doesn't sound cold because that's not what I want to convey. I've attended their funerals, sent flowers and cards and even written off their balances with me but I've got to earn a living and this is really affecting my bottom line. Pets are dying at an escalated rate as well due to some strange cough that turns into pet covid and kills them.

13 0 Reply • Share ›

BJNeal → Beatrice
6 days ago

I'm convinced that our dog died of Covid. Upset with myself still for not getting him on Ivermectin.

6 0 Reply • Share ›

Beatrice → BJNeal
5 days ago

I'm so sorry BJ. How awful. Don't blame yourself- please. I'm going through the loss of my beloved dog right now and it's all too easy for me to find fault in my care of him but the truth is, I did the very best I could and I believe that you did too. In the future though or for those reading this, use NAC 600mg/2 times a day for your dog who is or was coughing. Also, don't waste your time going to your vet. Go to an emergency clinic where there are specialists and most have excellent care well above what your family vet will provide.

4 0 Reply • Share ›

lost faith → Beatrice
3 days ago

Great information! Thank you!

0 0 Reply • Share ›

Beatrice → lost faith
3 days ago

Try to stock up on antibiotics as well.....doxycycline for starters. I've heard that they are in short supply and that this dog virus is also a bacterial infection (both viral and bacterial).

1 0 Reply • Share ›

Load more comments

Subscribe Privacy Do Not Sell My Data

Children's Health Defense®

Children's Health Defense® is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization. Our mission is to end childhood health epidemics by working aggressively to eliminate harmful exposures, hold those responsible accountable and establish safeguards to prevent future harm. We fight corruption, mass surveillance and censorship that put profits before people as well as advocate for worldwide rights to health freedom and bodily autonomy.

THE DEFENDER IS AVAILABLE IN:

ENGLISH SPANISH PORTUGUESE GERMAN ITALIAN FRENCH

TAKE ACTION

DONATE FREE SIGN-UP BECOME A MEMBER

Donations are tax deductible to the full extent of the law. EIN #26-0388604

© 2016 - 2024 Children's Health Defense® • All Rights Reserved • Sitemap